A FULL HOUSE AT CROCKETT

The Festivities Are One Continuous Performance.

A MAMMOTH CARD FETE

Guests Entertained at Hearts—A Mother Goose
Play.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CROCKETT SPRINGS, VA., August 5.— The festivities of the week at Crockett's opened with a mammoth card fete, given by Miss Reid, of North Carolina, and Mrs.
West, of Washington. On account of the large number of participants, the game was played in the ball-room, which had been converted into a bower of beauty for the occasion. The ladies were beautifully costumed and the men were in regulation evening dress. The contest was close and exciting—mirth-provoking, too, judging from the repeated peals of laughter—and the hour was late before the prizes were awarded. The first prize, a handsome gold and silver houbon spoon, was won by Mrs. M. C. Thomas, of Crockett's; the second, a silver vinaigrette, by Miss Theobald, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Murray carried off the remaining prizes, a bottle filled with a very suspicious looking liquid, and a handsome pack of cards.

After the game most delicious refreshments were served. Mirth and jollity ruled the hour, and the merry party in-gured long at the festive board.
On Saturday night Mrs. Connell and Mrs. S. H. Schofield delightfully entertained a large party at hearts. The reception rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns and other greenery and cut flowers. As the guests entered each drew from a proffered basket a dainty, heart-shaped score card, to which was attached a tiny envelope containing a card bearing the name of his partner in the game.
The assembly was a brilliant one, and the evening was one of rare enjoyment.
Refreshments were served during the intervals of the game, and the tables were furnished with dishes of Huyler's chocolate bonbons. After the distribution of the prizes, a handsome collation was enjoyed by the invited guests and by all in the hall.

The prizes were beautiful and appropriate—a gold heart, won by the lucky Miss Theobald; a silver heart, by Miss Leeda; a silver, heart-shaped book-mark, Miss Connors; a large violet heart, filled with Huyler's candy, Mrs. Thomas. Mrs.
Connell was her usual handsome self in a Parisian creation of white rose point over blue satin, with elegant diamonds.
Mrs. Schofield, an exquisitely dainty little bit of womanhood, wore a most becoming gown of blonde lace and French nouveau, with ornaments of diamonds and pearls. The lovely and accomplished Mrs. Dalley, of Texas, kept the score, oc-asionally passing from the reception rooms to the parlor, where her delightful singing attracted a continual crowd of admirers. Mrs. Dalley has since left, and by her departure Crockett's is bereft of one of its chief charms.

On Thursday night the younger set gave an excellent Mother Goose entertainment.
The costumes were surprisingly well arranged, and the acting was beyond the usual achievement of the amateur. The performance ended, as most affairs at Crockett's do, with the old Virginia reel.
The Queen of Hearts danced with the knave that stood to the left. The knave who lived by himself joined hands with Miss Mary, so contrary. Little Miss Muffet shook her flaxen locks in the eyes of lean Jack Spratt. Funniest of all was the king's cook, arrayed in the voluminous white trousers of the fat boy, his face artistically painted on the back of his head. The well portayed characters were too numerous for a special mention of all. In this respect they resemble the social functions of Crockett's. There is "something doing" nearly all the time, and the entertainments are truly "too numerous to mention."

I attempt to do so I shall not have space to chronicle the arrival of several distinguished among us for their attractiveness and charm—Miss Nannie Forbes, of Fredericksburg, with her ready wit and her engrossing personality; Miss Fannie Taylor, whose beautiful dark eyes are sufficient excuse for almost anything a Crockett's young man may say or do; Miss Virginia Greider, a girl of girls, pretty, bright and sweet as a California peach; charming, dainty Miss Mary Owen, of Kansas City; Mrs. T. J. Freeman, a regal blonde beauty, of Texas, and others, again "too numerous to mention."

The Crockett's register shows a list of guests hailing from all parts of the Union, many from Florida, Louisiana and other Southern States. A few days ago some of the New Orleans contingent said goodbye, and returned home to be with their friends in case of danger on account of the yellow fever plague.

BUFFALO LITHIA.

The Splendid Traditions of the Old Place Realized Anew.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS, VA., August 5.—In a quiet vale among the Buffalo hills of Mecklenburg county, the clear, sparkling, health-giving waters of the Buffalo Lithia Springs flow on, as gently as Sweet Afton—still relieving physical ills, bringing roses to the pale cheek, elasticity to the tottering step, strength and vigor to the enfeebled body of the suffering invalid.
A large concourse of visitors are here, enjoying the restful life of the quiet surroundings, beneath the pleasing shades of the broad-spreading branches of native oaks, tall cypresses and sturdy hickories. The velvet green sward of the lawn greets the eye; the beautiful golden rod is beginning to make its appearance on the neighboring hills, and the modest little daisy is blooming beside the brook.
The sweet song of the mocking bird, the melodious carol of the brown thrush and whippoorwill, as the evening shades appear, all contribute to make life here interesting and happy.

At night music, "with its voluptuous swell" enlivens the occasion, as the young and gay, and often those of mature years, mingle together in the mazes of the dance on the floor of the spacious ballroom.
As the guests discuss freely together current topics of the day, many heated political arguments are heard. The relative merits of each candidate before the people of Virginia, are presented by their friends. Your correspondent, not being a citizen of this State, can take no part in the election. If entitled to vote here it would be exceedingly difficult to make a choice between the candidates—reference is made to those offering for the offices of United States Senator and Governor. We can only express deep regret that statesmen so worthy and well qualified for the positions they seek, should not all be successful.

Besides Virginia and the adjoining State of North Carolina, many other States are represented by the guests. Among our number are General J. C. Hill, Colonel Colonel S. T. Hives, of Richmond; Mrs.
Gibbs and Mr. Patterson, of Dallas; Mrs.
Glen Walker, of Fort Worth, Texas; Mr.
Whitesides, of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. W. B.
Tunstall, of Baltimore, Md.; Hon. C. M.
Bushee and family, of Raleigh; Dr.
Charles Hanes and wife, of Kirtland; Dr.
Martin, of Leaksville, and Mr. Williams, of Littleton, N. C.; Colonel E. D. Cole, and family, of Fredericksburg; Mr. Parker and family, Mr. Sykes and wife, of Portsmouth; Mr. Tackett, of Alexandria; Colonel Woodward, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Colonel S. T. Hives, of Houdenville, Ky.; Judge Whitehurst, of Norfolk; Judge Wileox is expected this week; Mrs. Mattie Baskerville and daughter, and Mrs.
Perrin, of Richmond; Mr. J. C. Long and Mrs. Holmgren, of Oxford, N. C.
The Virginia, popular office force, Colonel A. W. Archer, in charge of hotel; Colonel J. T. Alexander, Mr. Knight and Mr. Pierpont, assistants; and efficient physician in charge, Dr. B. K. Hays still preside.

MUCH GAYETY AT THE CHALYBEATE

A Brilliant Driving Party Furnishes Amusement at the Old Sweet.

SUPPER AT HIGH ALTITUDE

A Large Richmond Contingent Swell the Ranks of the Rest-Seekers.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SWEET CHALYBEATE, VA., August 5.—The most brilliant social function of the season was an entertainment given by Mrs. Chas. S. Stacy, of Ronecorte, W. Va., at the Old Sweet Springs Saturday night. The party was made up entirely of guests of the Sweet Chalybeate Springs and carried to Sweet Springs in the old stage coach drawn by four of the handsomest stallions on the place. A bowling party was the first amusement on the list and was entered into with a vim by everyone present. Mr. Thompson was lucky enough to carry off the highest score for the gentlemen, while Mrs. Ritchie, of Norfolk, made a close second for the side of the fair sex. When the bowling scores had been declared the party was ushered into the dining-room, where one of the most delightful luncheons seen in the Valley was spread. The table was tastefully decorated with a rare variety of dishes, enriched by touch-me-nots, while the tea table was delicately tied with bows of red ribbon.

The supper consisted of ten courses.
During the luncheon Miss Lillian Kensett, in her own facetious way, proceeded to decorate all the gentlemen with ribbon bows of red. The decorations having been completed the party repaired to the ball-room, where dancing was indulged in till the midnight hour changed Saturday into Sunday. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Stacy, Mrs.
Ritchie, Mrs. Byrd, Mrs. Sand, Misses Honey, Dunsell, Lambert, Budd, Lillian and Mildred Konsett, Nannie Kensett, Messrs. Daniel, Blackford, Smith, Thompson, Ferguson, Davis, Tom Heath and Joe Hume.

Mrs. Stacy, who is the sister of Mr.
Camm Lewis, of Charleston, W. Va., one of the driving and the most popular of the drivers, is charming in every respect and extravagantly admired.
On Friday night Mrs. E. C. McCay, of Baltimore, who has done so much entertaining this season, took a party consisting of Misses Marian Hume, Lillian Honey, E. H. Hume, and Miss Hope, Josephine Budd, Helen Phillips, Marie Whiting, Messrs. C. M. Daniel, Tom Heath and Joe Hume, R. T. Ferguson, C. B. Fleet, about ten miles up in the heart of the mountains, where bear are frequently captured. A place noted among the guests of the Sweet Chalybeate for its appetizing supper, where a delightful spread was laid. Visions of fried chicken and mountain pie will ever follow each individual who went to make up the merry party. The drive over the mountain at an elevation of three thousand feet above the sea level, interspersed with scenery, makes a trip which is coveted by every visitor of the Sweet Chalybeate Springs.

On Sunday evening an informal luncheon was served by Miss Lillian Kensett at the romantic hour of 10 in honor of her guests, Mr. Thompson and Miss Lambert, who were here only for the evening.

NORTHUMBERLAND NEWS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) THIRATSVILLE, VA., August 5.—The tomato crop of the Northern Neck this year is almost an entire failure. Especially is this so of the late crop. The small, brought fancy prices, and the trucks "came out" fairly well. The late crop, on the other hand, is bringing very poor prices in market. Only a few canning factories of this section are being run this year, owing to the failure of the canning business last year, and therefore are paying little or nothing for the to-matos. The vines have hardly any fruit on them, and the yield will probably be the shortest in many years.

Thrift Brothers, of Calico, while engaged in loading the schooner "Lily Owens" with lumber off Sharp's, recently had their lighter carried off by heavy winds. The lighter was loaded with 12,000 feet of lumber, most of which has been recovered. The lighter is still adrift.

Miss Bettie I. Smith has returned to her home here, after spending the spring and early summer with friends and relatives in Baltimore and Washington.

Mr. William J. Tignor returned home a few days ago after a short visit to his family in Washington.

WARRENTON, VA.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WARRENTON, VA., August 5.—Interest is growing apace in the Warrenton Horse Show and the days pass by. All of the best known exhibitors will show here and the general high standard of previous exhibitions will be maintained.

Mr. William J. Tignor returned home
a few days ago after a short visit to his family in Washington.

Miss Elizabeth Rice, of Baltimore, is visiting at the home of her uncle, Mr. A.
S. Rice.

Miss Virginia Hilkey to her friends on Friday evening.

The next german will probably be give on Friday, August 10th.

Mrs. John Keith entertained a number of friends at hearts last Thursday evening.

THEY STILL THRONG THE VIRGINIA SHORE

Elegant German and Attractive drew Reynolds, of Portsmouth; Mr. Justice Hume and Mr. Horace Haggard, of Norfolk.

An attractive dinner was given at the Princess Anne Hotel on Saturday evening, when those present were Miss Elizabeth K. Carnoy, Miss F. L. Waite, Capt.
Chas. B. Taylor, U. S. M. C.; Mr. Wm.
R. Kirk and Mr. W. J. Carney.

On Friday evening Mr. Goodie Cofer, of Newport News, entertained Mrs. Martin Greenwood and Mrs. H. R. Leonard, of Norfolk, and Miss Frances Randall, of Danville, at dinner at the Princess Anne.
Mrs. Wheeler Jones, of Salt Lake City; Mrs. Belvin, Miss Mary Belvin and Mrs. Hatcher have returned to Richmond, after spending two weeks with Mrs. Dancy.

Misses Susie, Mary and Sarah Gerding, Misses Mattie Wilson and Louise Dubosc, Miss Camilla McWhorter and Miss Mary C. Lenlow, of Athens, Ga., and nill, of Petersburg, are with Mrs. Pannill.

Mr. McCutchen, who has been at the Princess Anne for a week, has returned to Richmond.

Mrs. Minnie Reese and daughter, of Montgomery, are guests at the Princess Anne.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Pace, who have been staying at the Princess Anne, have returned to Richmond.

Mr. W. D. Blanks and child, of Charlotteville, Va., are staying at the Princess Anne Hotel.

Mrs. Emily Dickinson, of Richmond, is at the Sea View Cottage.

Mrs. S. E. Hurch, Miss Chas. Gillespie, Mrs. Wm. Gillespie, Mr. J. Bagby and Professor A. McKenney, of Richmond, are at the Joy Cottage.

CHATHAM SOCIAL

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHATHAM, VA., August 5.—Mrs. Alice H. Yaden entertained several friends Wednesday night in honor of Miss Emma Tate, of Chalk Level, and Miss Sute Crawford, of Roanoke. The evening was spent in various amusements, in which all joined, making it very pleasant. Delicious refreshments were served about midnight in profusion.

Miss Lucy Danney concluded her dancing class Friday night with a very enjoyable german in the town hall, which was prettily decorated for the occasion.
In which green and white predominated.
The german, led by Mr. C. G. Sour, Jr., with Miss Lucy Danney, was opened with a grand march, in which the ladies carried lighted Japanese lanterns, and the gentlemen shepherds' crooks, during which the hall lamps were extinguished and red illuminations were substituted, which, blending with the bright faces and pretty costumes of the dancers, perfected a scene of grandeur and beauty which was very much enhanced by the very inspiring music discoursed by the Virginia String Band, of Danville. During the evening many very pretty figures were danced.

The Primitive Baptist Union, meeting with Whitehorn Church, Friday, Saturday and Sunday last, was largely attended, the crowd on Sunday running considerably up in the hundreds. Dinner was served on the grounds. The next union will be with the church near Phillips' Mill.

The Primitive Baptist Association will meet with Old Hanster, near Chatham, on Friday before the second Sunday in August, continuing through Sunday. The crowds attendant upon these associations are always large, and this association will be up to or beyond many of the best.
Miss Emma Tate, of Chalk Level, and Sute Crawford, of Roanoke, are visiting relatives.
